Webinar and AI Early Access Program Terms

AMCS AI agents launch webinar and AI Early Access Program (EAP)

By registering for this webinar and/or the EAP, you acknowledge and agree that:

Webinar. This webinar is for general information only. It is not legal, regulatory, technical or other professional advice and it is not an offer or contract. Sample, simulated or pre-configured data and environments may be used and actual features, functionality, performance and results may differ, including by use case, configuration, data and deployment environment. Nothing in this webinar is a representation, warranty or guarantee about any product, service or outcome. AI agents may produce output that is inaccurate, incomplete or inappropriate. Any output should be reviewed by a suitably qualified person before it is relied on. You are responsible for assessing whether any AI solution, including the EAP, is suitable for, and compliant with, your own legal and regulatory obligations.

AI Early Access Program (EAP). The EAP described in the webinar is time-limited and has a limited number of places. Expressing interest in the EAP, or registering for or attending this webinar, does not guarantee a place. Eligibility criteria will apply and will be set by AMCS at its sole discretion. AMCS may accept or decline any application at its discretion, without giving a reason. Participation depends on the participant entering into, and continuing to comply with, the applicable EAP terms and conditions. Continued use after the EAP period ends will require a separate agreement (including agreement on commercial terms). AMCS may change, suspend or end the EAP and/or any product or feature shown in the webinar at any time.

Roadmap. Information about future products, features, functionality, timelines or releases reflects AMCS's current intentions only. It is not a commitment and may change at any time without notice. It should not be relied on when making purchasing decisions.

IP. All webinar content and materials belong to AMCS or its licensors. They may not be reproduced, recorded or distributed without AMCS's prior written consent.

Personal data. AMCS will use the information you provide to assess your eligibility for, and contact you about, the EAP. AMCS processes personal data collected in connection with this webinar and the EAP in accordance with the data protection regulations. If this webinar is recorded, your name and any questions or comments you submit may be captured in the recording.

If you do not agree to these terms, do not register for this webinar or the EAP.
